CLAIRE MILLER

Claire Miller is an exciting, up-and-coming Scriptwriter and experienced Script Editor. As a Scriptwriter, Claire is currently on the core writing team for BBC's CASUALTY, and has written eight episodes so far, including the explosive finale for the show's 30th anniversary year. She has recently written on BBC's HOLBY CITY and two episodes of THE WORST WITCH Series 2 for CBBC. Her first original radio drama NOW, WHERE WERE WE? recently aired on BBC Radio4. Claire was also commissioned to write seven online episodes to accompany the CBBC drama HARRIET'S ARMY. She has also had two original ideas optioned by Clerkenwell Films. She is currently developing a new original drama script, and collaborating on a web series.

Claire has previously worked as storyliner and script editor on the STELLA Series 4 for Tidy Productions. Other script editing credits include YOUNG DRACULA, EMMERDALE, CASUALTY and THE BILL.

Claire also runs The Script Workshop, offering courses and reading services to aspiring television writers and was a mentor on the Scriptwriting BA course at Bolton University. She has a BA in Psychology and an MA in Scriptwriting for Radio and Television.
